Posting Your Land

Many landowners post signs to keep strangers off their land. A problem is, most signs available at the local hardware store do not meet all the requirements of Minnesota law which are:

- Signs must be posted once per year (or posted and dated one year and then re-dated each year thereafter).
- Signs must be placed at intervals of 1,000 feet (500 feet in wooded areas) or placed at primary corners and access points to the property.
- Signs must state “No Trespassing”, or similar words, in 2-inch high letters.
- Signs must have the signature or name and phone number of the landowner, lessee or manager.

This sign meets all the requirements which are printed right on the sign as a reminder for you and notice to potential trespassers that trespass laws are enforced by conservation officers and peace officers. Violations can result in a fine of up to $3,000 and revocation of hunting or fishing license.

The best pen for signing is a Sharpie Permanent Marker with either Fine or Ultra Fine Point.

Signs like the one above are available from MFA. The 12” x 9” signs are printed in black ink on .024 gauge yellow plastic. This is fairly stiff material but, if you plan to keep the sign up for two, three or more years, you might want to mount it in a plywood backing.
